Rev. G. O. Gannaway preached at Peck Chapel, near Inman Sunday, and came back with glowing accounts of the hospitality and kindness of the people. He intended to preach also at Sulphur Springs, but got delayed and arrived too late at Inman to make the trip. He will preach to the good people up there at another date.

Nature makes the cures after all.

Now and then she gets into a tight place and needs helping out.

Things get started in the wrong direction.

Something is needed to check disease and start the system in the right direction toward health.

Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil with hypophosphites can do just this.

It strengthens the nerves, feeds famished tissues, and makes rich blood.

Special to the News.
All you can hear in this part of Alabama is, "How are you going to vote, for or against the Amendment?" I am sorry that the most of our preachers have neglected their preaching and gone to making political speeches. It is said that they get paid for this. "The love of money is the root of all evil, which while some covered after they have erred from the faith and pierced themselves through with many sorrows."—1 Tim. 6:10. The great commission to preach the gospel to every creature, was not given to a few believers but to the church, the whole church. This is the church's business and her only legitimate work while in this sinful world. To this work every member is called and to the execution of this task every energy of both mind and body should be devoted, and this includes the farmer, the merchant and the tradesman—all should devote their energies to the prosecution of their business for God and for Him only.

Whiskey is one of the world's greatest curses and good Christians will not vote any way except against it. Who can vote for such a curse and be a Christian?

I saw a piece in the News recently written from Dunlap, Tenn., in regard to a man donating his carpenter work to an entertainment to raise money for the preacher. The writer said he refused to do it and asked if he did right? God has a plan to support his Gospel. "Even so hath the Lord ordained that they which preach the Gospel should live of the Gospel."—1 Cor. 9:4. The word ordain means to set in order, to establish to regulate by appointment, decree or law. This reveals the fact that God has established a system for the support of the Gospel, and that this system is identically the same as the one set in order by the Lord for the support of the ministry under former dispensations is shown by the fact that Paul, when instructing the church in this duty, refers them to the customs set in order by the law which governed the former system. He says that the ministry in the Christian Church is to be supported, even so, or in like manner, God wants men to stop robbing him and just pay honest tithes. He says: "Bring ye all the tithes unto the store house that there may be meat in mine house and prove me now here-with, sayeth the Lord of Hosts. If I will not open you the window of heaven and pour you out a blessing that there shall not be room enough to receive it, and I will rebuke the devourers for your sakes and he shall not devour the fruit of your ground: neither shall your vine cast her fruit before the time in the field, saith the Lord of Hosts."—Mal. 3:11, 10.

The redemption of man made necessary the gift of the Son of God, and in this gift was embraced not only every blessing which we enjoy in this life, but all the joys of the eternal world. In view of this fact it seems a very just requirement for God to reserve one-tenth of our earnings as His, especially when the means thus raised are to be used in the support of those whom the Lord calls to teach men the way of salvation.

Our brother at Dunlap did right according to his feelings. Gifts, no matter how great, if prompted by any other motive than love to God and humanity, are not accepted by the Lord. Did Christ exhibit regard for the sanctity of God's house? "And they came to Jerusalem and Jesus went into the Temple and began to cast out them that sold and bought in the temple, and overthrow the tables of the money changers and the seats of them that sold doves, and would not suffer that any man should carry any vessel through the Temple, and He taught, saying unto them: It is written your house shall be called of all nations, the house of prayer, but ye have made it a den of thieves."—Mark 11:15, 17.

President Taft and party came through Cordova one day last week on their way to Birmingham. His train stopped five minutes. He gave the people a nice talk. About one thousand people met the train.

All the mines are running full blast now. Some have started that have been shut down for a long time.

We haven't had a good rain in about five months. All the wells are about dry and there is a lot of sickness in our town.

What has become of all of our correspondence? We would like to hear from you. Let's hear from Dunlap and tell us if our old friend, John Degnan, is still living.

What has become of "Texas Bachelor"? Wake up old boy and give us some news from Texas, if you are there. Pedro.

When you have a cold the first thing to do is have the bowels move. Do not take anything that may constipate—and most old fashioned cough cures do constipate. Try Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup. It drives the cold from the system by a free yet gentle action of the bowels; it stops the cough, it is pleasant to take. Children like it. Sold by Whitwell Drug Co.

Judge Pryor's Report.

The News Job Department this week is engaged in printing Judge Pryor's Annual Report, a pamphlet of 16 pages and cover, which is well studded with figures and facts. As soon as delivered to him we will make mention of some of the salient points, and there are many interesting things to note in it. Judge Pryor's Report is a very comprehensive and contains much valuable information. It contains more matter than last year's report. This is his third annual report printed in this office, which shows his appreciation of careful work.
